

inMotion Incorporated's Commitment to Justice Awards

The New York Sun noted that Chris Kiplok and Jeff Federman were among the lawyers honored at the non-profit group inMotion Incorporated's Commitment to Justice Awards. The annual awards were held Nov. 29 at the Dahesh Museum of Art. The New York City-based inMotion Incorporated provides free legal assistance to low-income women and their children. Services included helping women obtain custody of their children, child support, divorces and orders of protection from abusive spouses.
